

GOLD WATCH FOR PROFESSOR ECKLES

Students and Associates Honor Departing Head of Dairy Department.

WAS HERE 18 YEARS
Goes to University of Minnesota—Succeeded by A. C. Ragsdale.

A surprise dinner was given for Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Eckles Friday night at the apartments of Prof. and Mrs. A. C. Ragsdale in the Dumas Apartments, complimentary to Professor Eckles who leaves the University in the next few days to take charge of the dairy department at the University of Minnesota.

The following members of the dairy department were present at the dinner: Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Palmer, Prof. and Mrs. W. B. Combs, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sweet, E. M. Harmon and M. H. Fohrman.

A twenty-three jewel, gold watch with the columns engraved on the back, was presented to Professor Eckles; a silver water pitcher was given to Mrs. Eckles. These were gifts of forty-eight students, former students and co-workers of Professor Eckles in the dairy department. A hand-lettered inscription was also presented giving the names of the donors.

The inscription read as follows: "We who have been associated in the dairy department with Prof. C. H. Eckles, our colleague, teacher and friend, present to him a gold watch and chain in grateful acknowledgement of his inspiring leadership and as a token of friendship and affection; and to Mrs. Eckles, his worthy helpmate and companion, a silver water pitcher as a mark of our highest esteem."

The inscription was lettered by Prof. H. W. Smith.

Eighteen Years' Service.
Professor Palmer, in making the presentation speech, reviewed the growth of the dairy department in the eighteen years that it has been under the management of Professor Eckles. In response, Professor Eckles recalled that in 1901 he conducted but one short-course class. It was held in a small building now used as a slaughter house, and at that time the only building in the dairy department. The jersey herd at that time could not be compared in size with the present dairy herd, according to the dairy chief.

During his stay at the University of Missouri, Professor Eckles has written, or helped to write, six circulars, eleven station bulletins, sixteen research bulletins, five bulletins for the United States Department of Agriculture, and sixteen articles contributed to scientific journals. He is also author of "Dairy Cattle and Milk Production," a book that has been translated into several foreign languages and used as a college text. He is a collaborator with Professor Warren of Cornell in a book, "Dairy Farming," used as a text in many secondary schools.

Eckles Club Formed.

In 1907 Doctor Eckles obtained for the College of Agriculture a branch research laboratory of the dairy department of the United States Department of Agriculture to investigate factors influencing the composition of milk. This station was maintained until 1913. Several years ago Professor Eckles' students and former students formed an Eckles Club at the National Dairy Show. G. C. White, a graduate of the University in 1910, now professor of dairying at Storrs, Conn., is the president of the club.

Prof. A. C. Ragsdale of the dairy department has been appointed to succeed Doctor Eckles.

THE DOT RED CROSS
By Clifford Leon Sherman

A great many people used to think that our heroine, as a child, was pampered. Well, I don't see that we have any room to complain about it. It was exactly what she was accustomed to, and, as she had never known anything different, it wasn't her fault if she took to diamond studded tooth-rings naturally. Everything she wore was mighty dainty, and, of course, it was imported. Her mother was very insistent about imported things, and even when she went out in her perambulator she must have her French

TIME, TIME---WHO WILL GIVE THE RIGHT TIME

"Time, please," or maybe just "time"—some people aren't so particular, you know—is what the jewelers in Columbia hear, some of them as many as thirty-five times a day, they say.

It used to be the telephone operators and the Western Union clerks who answered this eternal question from twenty-five to fifty times every day; but the higher officials stopped this, and the people who don't keep clocks are now dependant, to a large extent, on the jewelers, who get almost twice as many calls of this kind as they formerly did.

The jewelers don't complain. Most of them do not mind, they say, to give time service to their customers over the telephone. In many cases it is no trouble; but frequently it causes the loss of several minutes, if the man who is repairing a watch has to leave his work to answer the telephone.

Some persons in Columbia either have no time pieces at all in their homes or have them that have to be reset every twenty-four hours; for the same voices, which come soon to be recognized, are heard asking the same question every day.

Jewelers are not the only people who have to answer time calls. Almost every store in Columbia has some, and the calls in most of them have increased of late.

Tigers Win Final Game

The Missouri Tigers won the second game Saturday night from the Kansas Aggies 38 to 23, taking all the glory out of the Valley championship won by the Aggies this year.

Hinds, Aggie forward started the scoring and was followed by a field counter by Vogt within the first minute of play. The Aggies scored easily on long shots at intervals during the first half. The score at the end of that time stood 15 to 13 in their favor.

Ruby started the fireworks for Missouri at the opening of the last half. The Aggies tried to stem the rally but it was useless, the Tigers were bent on defeating the Valley champions for the second time and nothing could stop them. The Aggies, seeing another bing score creeping up on them, turned the game into little less than a fight between the members of the teams. Bunker was knocked unconscious and Ruby and Scott both called time out because of injuries sustained in roughness.

The Aggies scored two field goals in the last half. Jennings, a first year man on the Aggies team, played a good game in center. Captain Clarke and Bunker also starred.

Every man on the Tiger team starred throughout the game. Captain Ruby played a consistent game, guarding Jennings and following the ball from the Aggie territory to the Tiger goal. He scored four field goals. Phil Scott played a fast game but was a marked man because of his playing in Friday night's game. Despite this he got away with five shots from the field and scored four points out of five attempts on free throws. Vogt played Jennings a close game at center. He was high point man for the Tigers, with seven field goals. Schroeder played a fast game, holding the three men who played against him during the game to two field goals. Browning also played a clean, fast game, following into the Tiger territory after a long shot was attempted.

The summary score follows:
Missouri (38) Aggies (23)
Ruby.....f.....Hinds
Scott.....f.....Bunker
Vogt.....c.....Jennings
Schroeder.....g.....Cowell
Browning.....g.....Clarke

BELIEVES GOD IS UNCHANGING

"The Same Today, Yesterday and Tomorrow," Says Rev. Coale.

"I believe that righteous God is the same today, yesterday and tomorrow," said the Rev. D. L. Coale Saturday night at the Broadway Methodist Church. He was discussing the protecting power of God, taking for his text "Where is the Lord God of Elijah?" "I believe that God is an unchanging God."

"The greatest victories of life come through the greatest sorrows. I thank God for every heart rending sorrow that ever came to my life."

"As one whom a mother comforts, so will I comfort thee." That is one of the best pictures of God in the Bible.

"Our warfare of life begins when we enlist in the army of the Lord. God permits temptation to come to us. Temptation is but the testing fire that
